HD Design showcases VIP display products - Denmark

Danish company HD Design presented its range of document display products and office accessories at the recent Sourcing & Innovation Days in France.

One of the eye-catching products was the VIP wall-mounted document presentation tool, which has a range of applications such as in specialist stores, receptions desks, restaurants and in the office.

One of the features is the availability of a variety of plastic pockets for different document types.

A desktop version is also available.
